5. Procedure

5.1 Livingstone House will provide appropriate training on Equal Opportunities. Livingstone House is committed to following the European Human Rights Commission Employment Statutory Code of Practice and has appointed an appropriate senior manager to have responsibility for Equal Opportunities training.

5.2 Recruitment and Selection

Any selection exercises including recruitment, promotion and redundancy selection, amongst others, will be carried out with regard to objective criteria which specifically avoid any issues of discrimination. Similarly, where possible, Livingstone House will ensure that such exercises are carried out by more than one person.

Any vacancies will be advertised to as wide and diverse an audience as possible. Such advertisements will not discourage any individual or group from applying. Job applicants will not be asked questions which might suggest an intention to discriminate on grounds of a Protected Characteristic. For example, applicants should not be asked whether they are pregnant or planning to have children.

Job applicants will not be asked about health or disability before a job offer is made, except in the very limited circumstances allowed by law, for example, to check that the applicant could perform an intrinsic part of the role, for example, heavy lifting (taking account of any reasonable adjustments), or to see if any reasonable adjustments may be required at an interview. Where necessary, job offers can be made conditional on a satisfactory medical check. Health or disability questions may be included in equal opportunities monitoring forms; these forms will not be used for selection or decision-making purposes.

5.3 Disabilities

Livingstone House is committed to ensuring that all members of staff have the ability to thrive in their career. If a member of staff is disabled or becomes disabled, whether this disability is obvious or not, Livingstone House encourages them to tell Vianney Dunne about their condition so that Livingstone House can consider what reasonable adjustments or support may be appropriate.

Livingstone House will not make any assumptions about immigration status based on appearance or apparent nationality.

However, Livingstone House is required by law to ensure that all of its employees are entitled to work in the UK. Therefore, all prospective employees, regardless of nationality, must be able to prove their right to work in the UK before their employment commences at Livingstone House. Please refer to the Right to Work Checks Policy and Procedure at Livingstone House for further details.
